IN EVERY ISSUE:

VIEW FROM THE EDGE

Veteran webcaster, consultant, and industry observer Dom Robinson offers up his always pointed, sometimes poignant, and decidedly outside-the-mainstream take on the issues both at the center and on the fringes of our industry.

CLASS ACT

Elearning is now part of the core curriculum at secondary and post-secondary educational institutions, whether as a substitute for the traditional classroom experience or as a supplemental form of instruction. Educational video not only enhances the academic experience and helps students with different learning styles achieve success, but it can also help schools reach more learners in these times of tighter budgets and elevated expectations for achievement. Written by Paul Riismandel, CLASS ACT offers real-world advice on how to maximise streaming video in the academic environment.

STREAMS OF THOUGHT

Founder of Transitions, Inc., a business and technology development firm helping startups and distressed businesses,

Tim Siglin has been involved full-time with visual communications and digital media capture/transmission systems designs for more than twelve years. In STREAMS OF THOUGHT, Siglin looks at the "deep technology" that underlies streaming audio and video and makes sense of it for the rest of us.

SPICY IDEAS

Jose Castillo, one of the industry's leading bloggers, consultants, and speakers who focuses on Web 2.0 technologies and brands, offers a lively, humorous and insightful take on the intersection of online video and social media.
